

Topics for meeting March 2020

Bernhard Nornes Lotsberg

March 29, 2020

- Spent most of my time on learning how to use Pytorch and LSTMs, feel relatively confident now. Also spent some time getting dual GPU to work because of a bug in Pytorch when using `nn.LSTM` and `nn.DataParallel`.
- Currently trying to understand the CAMELS dataset. Ask if this is a good idea.
- Lost some time because of uncertainty related to the virus situation. More time now since courses will have easy exams, I'm also doing 40 credits this semester so that I can commit fully the next school year.
- Ask Simon about the situation with the powerful computer.
- Me and Simon discussed and decided to stick with purely data-driven models.
